

THE LIST OF EDITORS AND CONTRIBUTORS

Ali R. Almutairi is the editor of Arab Journal of Administrative Science (AJAS) and an associate professor of Accounting at Kuwait University. He holds a BS degree in Accounting from Kuwait University, a MS degree in Accounting from University of Colorado, and a PhD in Accounting from Florida Atlantic University. He has published articles in a variety of academic journals including: Managerial Auditing Journal, Journal of Management and Governance, Malaysian Accounting Review, and Social Responsibility Journal. His research interests include corporate governance, audit quality, capital market, and earnings quality. Dr. Almutairi was the director of the MBA program at Kuwait University and a financial consultant at Kuwait Central Statistical Bureau.

Bernadette Sibetya Naggayi is a lecturer at Nsamizi Training Institute of Social Development, in Uganda. She holds a Master of Arts in Sustainable Conflict and Peace Management from Uganda Martyrs University. Her works are in gender, children, leadership and social development.

Bridget Namubiru holds a Master's degree in Leadership and Governance, and a Bachelor's degree of International Business from Makerere University. She is a Lecturer in the Department of Leadership and Governance at Makerere University Business School. Her research interests are in leadership, gender and governance.

Devinaga Rasiyah is a senior lecturer at the Department of Banking and Finance/ Faculty of Business at the Multimedia University (Melaka campus), in Malaysia. She has a Bachelors (Hons) in Supply Chain Management and had received her MBA from the University of Wales, United Kingdom. While lecturing for many years in Malaysia, Dr. Rasiyah completed her doctoral degree in Banking & Finance in 2003 and subsequently went off to work in an investment bank for several years in Australia. Apart from teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students, she also supervises PhD, Mphil and MBA students. She is a member of the Malaysian Institute of Management, American Finance Association (AFA), and member of the International Center for Banking and Corporate Governance, Ukrainian Academy of Banking of the National Bank of Ukraine. She is on the editorial board and a reviewer of (IBIMA) - Journal of Financial Studies and Research and the Clute Institute- Journal of Business and Economics Research (JBER). Her research interests in finance revolve around the valuation of financial assets, portfolio management, and risk management in corporate finance, bank operations and corporate governance.

Ekta Selarka is an Associate Professor at Madras School of Economics. She holds a Bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering and a Ph.D. in Economics. She offers courses in financial economics, derivatives, market microstructure and financial programming using SAS, VBA and Matlab. Prior to joining MSE she worked as a research economist at IGIDR and as a risk analyst with GE Capital. Her research interests include corporate governance, ownership structure, capital market development and gender diversity in boardroom. She has published in international journals such as Journal of Corporate Finance, and Emerging Markets Trade and Finance. She has received prestigious research grants from Indian Council of Social Science and Research (ICSSR) and UK-India Education and Research Initiative (UKIERI) through collaborations with researchers in India as well as abroad.

Harit Satt is an associate professor of finance and accounting, School of business administration at Al Akhawayn University in Ifrane, Morocco. Dr. Satt's research interests include corporate finance, corporate governance, Islamic finance and earnings management. Harit is a member of editorial boards of various journals and has several publications well-recognized international venues.

Jackie Young as a Professor supervises postgraduate students of the College of Economic and Management Sciences of the University of South Africa in the field of risk management and corporate governance. Prof. Young authored a book on operational risk management, published various research articles and participated as a speaker at international conferences. His fields of interest are operational risk management, corporate governance, roles and responsibilities for managing operational risk in a banking environment, challenges facing banks to be Basel compliant for operational risk, corporate governance and risk management: a South African perspective, the use of KRI's by banks as an operational risk management tool etc. He is a fellow of the Institute of Operational Risk Management.

Johan van Huyssteen lectures at the College of Economic and Management Sciences of the University of South Africa in the field of risk management and risk financing. Research in these focus areas were published in journals such as Corporate Ownership and Control.

Joshua Mugambwa is a PhD researcher at Makerere University in Uganda. He holds a Master's Degree in Governance and Development (University of Antwerp, Belgium) and a Master's Degree in Management Studies (Uganda Management Institute, Uganda). Prior to that, he obtained a Postgraduate Diploma in Education, a Postgraduate Diploma in Management and a Bachelor of Industrial and Fine Art. He has been a Lecturer at Makerere University Business School for over ten years. His professional and research interests include Gender, Public policy, Leadership, Governance and Development.

Jože Damijan is a Full Professor at the Faculty of Economics, University of Ljubljana, Senior Research Fellow at the Institute for Economic Research, Ljubljana and at VIVES, Centre for Regional Economic Policy at the University of Leuven, Belgium. Since 2016, he is visiting professor at the Department of Economics, University of Leuven in Belgium. He has been a former Minister for Growth, Government of the Republic of Slovenia, and President of the Economic Reforms Committee to the Slovenian Government. He has numerous publications on corporate governance, foreign direct investment and firm performance in the European transition countries.

Karen Watkins is Academic Director for the GEMFM Mexico Program (at IESDE School of Management). Prof. Watkins is affiliated to the Economics Intelligence Research Center (CIIE-UPAEP), and teaches bachelor and postgraduate economics and finance at UPAEP, Mexico. She has promoted twenty-five theses in The Netherlands, Curaçao, and Mexico — one of them awarded by IMEF-Deloitte. Karen Watkins is member of the Mexican National Research System (SNI, level II), the EURO Working Group on Financial Modelling, the International Family Research Academy, the International Corporate Governance Society, the Corporate Governance Experts Global Repository, and she is part of the international staff at the Corporate Governance Center (Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile). Her research interests are Corporate Governance, Family Businesses, and Financial Crises. She has published around thirty articles in journals such as the International Journal of Corporate Governance, The European Journal of Family Business, Corporate Board: Role, Duties, & Composition, Frontiers in Finance and Economics, Ensayos Revista de Economia, and El Trimestre Economico. Dr. Watkins is the author of three books, one published by ERIM and entitled Macroeconomic Crisis and Firm Performance. She has received several awards, including Best Paper Awards from Ensayos Revista de Economia and The European Journal of Family Business. In 2015 she also received the Adalberto Viesca Sada award for her research on Latin American family firms. Fluent in Spanish and English, she has been called upon as a consultant for different organizations and frequently interacts with the media.

Khaled Hussainey completed his PhD in Accounting and Finance at the University of Manchester in 2004, and since then he held academic positions at Plymouth University; Stirling University, Manchester University, and Ain Shams University, before joining the University of Portsmouth as a Professor of Accounting and Financial Management in August 2016. He has published more than 70-refereed papers in academic journals and international conferences proceedings. His research provides a cohesive and major contribution to corporate reporting and corporate finance literature. He has been awarded the prestigious 2007 Best Paper Award of the British Accounting Review & the prestigious 2012 Best Paper Award of the Journal of Risk Finance. He is currently a Co-Editor-in-Chief of Journal of Financial Reporting and Accounting; an Associate Editor for Journal of Applied Accounting Research and International Journal of Accounting, Auditing and Performance Evaluation.

Kwee Pheng Lim is a Senior Lecturer in the Faculty of Business at the Multimedia University (Malaysia) where she teaches in the fields of taxation, financial and management accounting, professional ethics and corporate governance. Dr. Kwee Pheng's research fields is in corporate governance, and has published in several international journals such as Journal of Intellectual Capital; Corporate Ownership and Control; and, a number of proceedings of international conferences.

Majdi A. Quttainah earned his PhD degree in Management from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Lally School of Management & Technology (USA). He earned his MBA degree with merits from the Business School & Entrepreneurship at Newcastle University (UK), and his Bachelor degree in International Business from the American International University in London (UK). Dr. Quttainah is an assistant professor and soon will be an associate professor of management in the College of Business Administration at Kuwait University and works on consultation and training projects as a freelancer. His research and teaching interests are corporate governance; the three levels of strategies, specifically corporate strategy, international management, and business, entrepreneurship & small business, and organizational change & development.

Meltem Gurunlu is an Assistant Professor of Finance at the Department of International Trade & Finance in Istanbul Arel University, Turkey. She has received her PhD degree in Accounting & Finance from Marmara University in Istanbul in 2008. Between 2011 and 2012, she worked at the Uni-East Project funded by Unicredit as a Post-Doc researcher at the University of Turin. Her research interests include corporate finance, behavioural finance, corporate governance and strategic decision taking (such as IPOs and FDI), capital structure decisions, emerging markets finance and ownership structure.

Robert W. McGee has had more than 40 years of experience working in a variety of capacities, including public accounting, corporate accounting, tax law, banking, consulting, and education. Clients include the United States Agency for International Development, the World Bank, the African Development Bank, and the Central Intelligence Agency. He has participated in several USAID Accounting Reform programs. He was in charge of assisting the Finance Ministries in Armenia and Bosnia convert their countries to International Financial Reporting Standards; in charge of reforming the accounting curriculum at all the major universities in Armenia and Bosnia; drafted the accounting law for Armenia and Bosnia, and reviewed the accounting law for Mozambique; reviewed securities legislation for Turkey; trained government ministry officials in Bulgaria, Rwanda and Tanzania, accountants in Russia, and economists in Ukraine. He has lectured or consulted in more than 30 countries and has earned 13 doctorates from universities in the United States and 4 European countries. Several studies have ranked him #1 in the world for accounting ethics and business ethics research. The Social Science Research Network ranks him among the top 20 business school professors in the world and in the top 30 for all social scientists.

Salem Alhababsah is a Lecturer in Accounting at Coventry University, UK. Salem has received his PhD in 2016 from Durham University Business School. Prior to the appointment at Coventry University, he worked four years at Durham University Business School and University of Lincoln. Salem also has four years professional experience as a Tax Officer at the Jordanian Tax Department. Salem's main research interest focuses on the corporate governance. In particular, the focus is on the role played by boards of directors, audit committees and ownership structure - as main corporate governance mechanisms - in different corporate aspects i. e. effect of these governance mechanisms on audit quality, financial performance, etc.

Sandra Damijan is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Economics, University of Ljubljana. She received her PhD in Economics, Faculty of Economics, University of Ljubljana in 2015. She is a member of the Jean Monnet Network on Corporate Governance and European Union Integration (CGEUI). Her academic and professional expertise include corporate governance, corporate compliance, fraud and forensic investigation, as well as corruption & development.

Yaroslav Mozghoyi is a co-editor of the Journal of Governance and Regulation as well as Corporate Governance and Organizational Behavior Review. He holds PhD in Money, Finance and Credit from the Ukrainian Academy of Banking of the National Bank of Ukraine. Dr. Mozghoyi was a member of organizing committees of international conferences on corporate governance in Sumy, Helsinki, Pisa, Paris, Milan, Nuremberg, Luneburg, Leipzig, Hong Kong, Lisbon and Rome. He also serves a reviewer and member of editorial boards of various international peer-reviewed journals. Yaroslav is a member of The Society for Economic Measurement and The Council of Science Editors (United States). Dr. Mozghoyi was a visiting lecturer at several business schools in Europe.